

Being a Good Mentee

with Ellen Ensher

Individual Rankings
Achievement	Accomplishing my goals; being successful
Advancement	Being “promoted”; assuming greater responsibility
Authority	Directing and supervising others; coordinating activities, people, and resources; motivating others; and being in charge
Balance	Balancing school, family, and leisure; knowing when to quit, leaving time for other things
Contribution	Feeling that my efforts serve a larger purpose; doing something meaningful for humanity
Creativity	Being innovative and inventive; creating new things or using my imagination; and discovering new opportunities, approaches, or applications
Enjoyment	Enjoying what I do, loving school and work, and doing the things that interest me and give me pleasure
Excitement	Being involved in stimulating things, taking risks, and venturing into new territory
Fame	Being famous or well known, achieving renown, and having public recognition and stature
Growth	Learning new things, facing new challenges, and evolving in rich and complex ways
Integrity	Maintaining the highest ethical standards, being honest and truthful, and being fair
Knowledge	Having knowledge and skill, being competent, using my head, and being an expert
Money	Being paid well for what I do, making more money, and getting bonuses or raises

Being a Good Mentee

with Ellen Ensher

Performance	Accomplishing tasks, meeting deadlines, doing well, and satisfying others
Power	Having power and authority and influencing/controlling activities, people, and organizations
Quality	Producing high-quality products/services; being proud of my work
Recognition	Being acknowledged for contributions; being publicly recognized and rewarded
Relationships	Having close friendships with teammates, getting along well with everyone, or working well with people I like and trust
Security	Being comfortable and feeling safe
Self-Actualization	Growing toward and attaining my highest potential, achieving the most I am capable of doing
Service	Serving and satisfying others; meeting others' needs
Stability	Functioning in a stable, harmonious environment, having no surprises or problems, and having predictable responsibilities
Team Player	Working together, belonging to a well-functioning team, being a team player, and feeling that I am part of something greater than myself
Winning	Competing with others, know the thrill of victory, scoring the winning run, closing the big deal, and making the crucial discovery

Being a Good Mentee

with Ellen Ensher

Values Sheet

Value #1

Value #2

Value #3

Value #4

Value #5